DURING the past week several delinquents have paid up their arrearages and advanced their subscriptions in answer to our appeal. There are still some who might come forward and help us straighten up our accounts. The action of these delinquents reminds us of a story. It was told to illustrate the harm that one person can do by not joining in with the crowd when any good movement is on foot. The congregation of a certain church in the days of the Puritans had decided to give the preacher a barrel of wine. The plan was for each member to pour a bottle of wine into the barrel. If all contributed that would make up the fifty gallons. One smart fellow decided that as he was a little short of wine he would pour in a bottle of water and, as there would be so much wine in the barrel, that nobody would ever know the difference. The trouble about the matter was that everybody in the congregation secretly thought the same thing. As a result when the preacher went to tap his barrel of "good cheer" he found it was nothing but water. And that is just the way the printer must suffer when each subscriber holds back his dollar thinking that all the others have paid.

THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Of the State University Will Hold a Boys' Corn School March 1, Continuing Three Days.

The object of this school is to interest the boys in improved methods of corn culture and to promote the organization of Boys' Corn Clubs throughout the state. While the school is intended primarily for boys, anyone desiring to attend will be gladly received. The word "boy" will be interpreted to mean anyone young enough in spirit to learn. The instruction will be worthy of the attention of men and women.

There will be no charge whatever connected with the school. Those desiring to attend should notify George Roberts, College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky., in order that ample provisions may be made for the number in attendance. Those desiring board should state the fact so that boarding house accommodations may be arranged for. Those not acquainted with the city should state what train they expect to arrive on. Some one of the College will meet the trains. Such persons will wear a badge with "College of Agriculture" printed upon it. Below is given the program of the school.

TUESDAY MORNING.
9:00—Enrollment and introductory talk on corn.
10:00—University Chapel Hour.
10:30-11:30—Lecture—What is good Corn.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.
1:30—Selection and care of Seed Corn.
2:30—Corn judging.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.
9:00—Germination Test of Seed Corn.
10:00—Preparation of Soil and Cultivation of Corn.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

2:30—Concrete Construction for the Farm. This will be actual work in making water and feed troughs, fence posts, etc. Any one can learn in a short time how to do any ordinary concrete work needed on the farm.

THURSDAY MORNING.
9:00—Breeding of Corn.
10:00—Corn judging.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.
1:30—Corn Judging.
2:30—Boys' Corn Club—A talk on their value and how to organize them.

At the close of this program if there is a sufficient number who desire to continue the study of corn, provision will be made for them to do so the remainder of the week.

Each person attending school should bring a sample of ten ears of his corn.

Arrangements have been made whereby a prize of $25.00 in gold will be offered to the members of a Boys' Club producing the most corn on an acre of ground in 1910.

If all our farmers would test their seed corn, the yield for the state would be increased twenty millions of bushels annually.

Kentucky average yield of corn is less than 30 bushels per acre. Help to make it fifty bushels in the near future.

Otis Bryant Starts in to "Clean Up the Town," But is Subdued.

(Louisville Herald, 10th.)

Fresh from the mountains of Breathitt county, with an army pistol strapped to his side declaring he was going to clean up the town, and after having knocked a dozen negroes down in Esquire alley, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, Otis Bryant was subdued after a desperate struggle with Lieut. Pulford, of the Third police district. Lieut. Pulford and Bryant fought for nearly fifteen minutes, and during that time the desperado from the mountains was knocked down five or six times, but each time to come back and renew the attack with increased fury. When the patrol wagon arrived on the scene Lieut. Pulford and Bryant were in a clinch and rolling on the ground.

Bryant, who had been in the city only a few days, it is said, began yesterday to pay frequent visits to the saloons, and early in the day was heard to make the remark that he was going to show the people how they "performed" in the mountains. "I am going to make a cleaning up of the niggers first," he was heard to say.

He went down Esquire alley and began to get in his work at a rapid rate. It is said that after he had knocked a dozen or more negroes down, and he could find no others upon whom to wreak his vengeance, he started in the direction of Eleventh and Magazine streets, and right on the corner ran into Lieut. Pulford. Without ceremony or explanation he sprang upon the policeman, declaring he was going to put the "cleaner" on him as he had done the negroes. A desperate struggle followed, and not until the wagon arrived did it show any signs of terminating, when several other policemen came to the assistance of Lieut. Pulford.

"I knew I could handle him," said Lieut. Pulford, "and for that reason did not use my gun or stick. I admit, however, he was a tougher proposition than I thought he would be."

North Pole Butter.

The following story is going the rounds of the press, which, if true, will demonstrate the truth of the declaration made that chickens had been sold on the market after fourteen years in cold storage:

A few days ago one of our citizens cut into a pound of butter which he had purchased at a grocery whose proprietor does not advertise and found therein a small tin box, which contained the following written in a neat, feminine hand: "I am a girl of eighteen years, good looking, and an excellent housekeeper. Should this be found by some unmarried gentleman, will he please write to the following address," etc. The finder being a bachelor decided to unravel the affair, and succeeded only to destroy the romance. The girl who had written the note had died many years ago, leaving an aged husband and a grownup family.

Good Road Laws.

It seems at last that Kentucky is to have some good road laws. Following are provisions of bills now before both Houses of the Legislature, which will likely pass: "In order to put the will of the majority of the voters of Kentucky in force and secure for our state the same system of road laws as are in effect in nearly all of the progressive states in our union there have been introduced three measures in the state Senate and they have also been introduced in House known as Senate bills Nos. 49, 50 and 51.

"Senate bill No. 49 is a complete revision of the present road laws of Kentucky, and instead of the present county road overseer or road superintendent, the magistrates elect a county road engineer, who must be a qualified road builder or engineer and while at present there are not very many of this class in Kentucky, yet, in order that he may qualify himself he is required, under the provisions of this bill to hold county road institutes in each road precinct in his county during each year. This will not only make the county road engineer qualify himself, but will also create a sentiment in the various counties of our state for public roads. We also do away with the present force known as the warning or militia system of working the roads.

"The county road engineer looks after the roads in the county, clearing them of obstructions, weeds and everything generally pertaining to the roads of the county, and when a county determines by its Fiscal Court upon building roads or by a two-thirds vote of the county to issue its bonds to pay for the roads and the county road engineer maps, plans and surveys out, draws the specifications, and advertises for the bids and after securing the bids for the building of the roads he has performed his part, and sends the plans, specifications and bids to the State Commissioner of Public Roads, who has charge of the state department of public roads which is created by the provisions of Senate bill No. 50, which bill prescribes his duties, creating the office of State Road Commissioner, it being under the auspices of the Commissioner of Agriculture, the State Road Commissioner being appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture at a salary of $2,400, is permitted to appoint such engineers and clerical help as the business of his office requires.

"Senate Bill No. 51 is for the purpose of creating the state road fund by levying a state tax of 5 cents on the $100 on all the taxable property of the state.

"This state road fund is to be apportioned among the counties of the state in proportion to the amount the counties levy and raise in any one year and put into repair and improvement of their public roads. It might be possible that there will not be a sufficient amount in the state road fund to pay as much as would satisfy the demands which may be made by the counties. The provisions of this bill are that the state will pay one-third and the county two-thirds the cost of constructing or reconstructing improved highways, and if any county wishes to go the limit as allowed by the constitutional amendment and at once vote a 5 per cent bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building public roads, this bill permits them to do so, and this county can draw its proportionate part of the amount in the state road fund from year to year until such county has received an amount equal to one-third of this bonded indebtedness which it may have incurred and put into improved roads, and the county is allowed to include not only the tax or other money raised for county road purposes, but may also include in the measure of this county's apportionment the interest and the sinking fund necessary to take care of this bonded indebtedness, but the county will also be required, under the provisions of this measure, to spend this one third which it receives from the state road fund in the building of public roads.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Coughs of Children

Especially night coughs. Nature needs a little help to quiet the irritation, control the inflammation, check the progress of the disease. Our advice is—give the children Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your doctor if this is his advice also. He knows best. Do as he says.

We publish our formulae. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

If you think constipation is of trifling consequence, just ask your doctor. He will disabuse you of that notion in short order. "Correct it, at once!" he will say. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. A mild liver pill, all vegetable.

Mrs. Frank Johnson, of Lacy creek, is at the home of her son-in-law, Porter Lacy, in town, for medical treatment.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Roscoe Shackelford returned on Monday from Cincinnati, where he had been to buy a planing outfit. We did not learn where he expects to set it up.

Several bunches of cattle passed through town en route to the market Monday and Tuesday. Jerry Holbrooks, of Letcher county, passed through Tuesday with a bunch of 87.

Rev. W. B. Ragan, pastor of the Methodist church at this place, will fill his regular appointment by preaching Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. Everybody come out and hear him.

The 13-year-old son of Bill Cox, of Toliver, was accidentally shot in the leg just above the knee with a 22 Stevens pistol. Dr. Taylor Center was called to dress the wound, but he did not extract the bullet.

A neighboring editor worked a scheme on his delinquent subscribers the other day. "All my subscribers but one have paid up in advance," he wrote, and about a hundred, ashamed to be the only one, dropped in and settled up.

H. H. Swango received a telegram Saturday last stating that R. F. Cecil, his father-in-law, at Cedar Bluff, Va., is very low, and not expected to live. Mrs. Boone May, another daughter of Mr. Cecil, started Monday morning to attend his bedside.

John M. Rose will offer for sale eight or ten of the most desirable building lots in Hazel Green on Saturday, March 5. At the same time he will also sell a lot of shoes, hats, etc. For further particulars see bills printed at this office and posted throughout this section. Jolly John Pieratt will act as auctioneer.

Boiler Explosion.

Last Friday morning while a crowd of men were standing around waiting for their turns at the saw and grist mill of James Haulsey, near Hardiman, in the Calaboose district, the boiler let go with terrific force, instantly killing Elementary Campbell and Henry Perry, a son of Thomas Perry. Campbell's body was terribly mutilated, being thrown about fifty yards and nearly all the clothing stripped off. The boy's clothing was also partially stripped off and the body badly torn, the left leg being found some thirty feet distant. A number of the bystanders were seriously injured, among them being James Haulsey, George Spencer, Thomas Perry, Logan Pelfry, Cal Watkins and Thomas Perry, Jr., son of George Perry. Medical aid was immediately summoned and everything done to relieve the injured, some of whom are not expected to recover. It is not positively known what caused the explosion, but it is said that the water in the boiler was low and cold water was suddenly pumped into it. A horse hitched about fifty feet from the mill was struck by a piece of the shattered boiler and instantly killed.

Death of Aunt Eliza Nickell.

Last Friday night, 11th inst., Mrs. Eliza Nickell, widow of Geo. W. Nickell, deceased, and niece of A. P. Lacy, died at the residence of Mr. Lacy, on Lacy creek, after a prolonged illness. Mrs. Nickell had been married twice, her first husband being Jesse Combs, of Hazard, after whose death she married George W. Nickell, with whom she moved to Missouri some fifteen years ago. Mr. Nickell died and she returned to Kentucky, since which time she has been making her home with Mr. Lacy. "Aunt Liza," as every person called her, was recognized as a christian, noble woman, and loved by all. She left no children, but a host of friends, and her life of 70 years was pure and lovable. Tender friends laid her to rest Sunday in the Mark Lacy burial grounds, near where she was born.

A Family Quarrel.

As the result of a quarrel between Emery Risner and his wife, tenants on the farm of Andy Toliver, near Mize, Risner had his arm severely cut with a razor in the hands of his wife. He was at once taken to the home of his father-in-law, Dave Jackson, where surgical aid was rendered by Dr. Taylor Center, who pronounces the wound a serious one. Mrs. Risner declares the cutting was accidental.

The drinking of an abundance of water will prevent appendicitis, because appendicitis is the result of constipation and constipation is the result of insufficient bile and insufficient supply of liquids. That's what an exchange says, anyway. If anybody wants any further reasons they'll have to go elsewhere, for we're not here to run the doctors out of business.

An exchange tells of two little boys who asked their mother if they might play store in the dining room. "Yes," she replied, "if you don't make much noise." "We'll be quiet about it, mom," said one. "We'll be storekeepers that don't advertise."

The following were guests at the Day House since our last report: J. H. Fowler, Salt Lick; Noah Gracch, Salt Lick; Ed J. Doyle, Portsmouth, Ohio; W. W. and E. F. Cartmell, West Liberty; W. P. Sandlin, Richmond, and a Mr. O'Rear, Clay City.

Sewell Rose, of Stillwater, was in town yesterday consulting with a physician.

H. G. A. Notes.

Several took membership in the Christian church Sunday.

Misses Meade and McCallam spent a pleasant afternoon with Misses Maple and Troy Sunday.

Arthur Kash and Troy Wilson left for Campton Saturday. We presume they wanted to see J. W. Tanlbee.

The U. D. girls gave their society program in the chapel Saturday night. Longfellow was highly represented.

Howard Halsey left today for the Hurst schoolhouse, where he will take a part in an entertainment in his brother's school.

Prof. Roberts has been on the sick list for the past week. We miss him very much and hope to see him back at his work soon.

Courtney Dennis, the boy who left school at the beginning of the term to take measles, has recovered and is now back in school.

The H. B. boys rendered their weekly program Monday night with a large attendance. They seem to always draw a large crowd.

The young people of the home wish to express their thanks to Marshal Joseph A. Rose for the kindness he showed them by clearing the snow off the sidewalks and around the home.

Miss Miller gave to those who eat at her table the privilege of sending valentines to each other by way of mailing them in a large bag in her room. After they were all mailed she brought the bag to the table and distributed them. All seemed to enjoy the dinner after receiving the valentines. We are certainly proud of the privilege of eating at her table.

George Dyer bought a bay mare from Nelse Chaney for $87.

Miss Hines, one of the academy faculty, leaves today for Lexington to undergo medical treatment.

Rev. Jeff Brewer, of Stillwater, was in town Tuesday to get some tools for his logging job in Menifee county.

George Dyer has bought the farm of his father-in-law, S. M. Tyler, on Grassy. He also bought another farm from Courtney Barker adjoining it for $350. He expects to build a new dwelling soon. George says that he thinks he can make a success at farming.

The kickers on the farm are not so hard to get along with as the kickers in town. On the farm there is the kicking cow, and our long eared friend, the mule, while in town there is the old mossback who wants all the municipal improvements without paying for them. The cow may be sold for beef, the mule traded for a shot gun, but nothing but a funeral will get rid of the town kicker.

KENTUCKY KERNELS

Carefully Collected and Concisely Chronicled.

Mrs. Jane Allen, supposed to be the oldest woman in Kentucky, is enjoying good health at the age of 104 years at her home in Floyd county.

The postoffice at Williamsburg was entered by crackmen last week and the safe dynamited. Some cash and 1,900 two-cent stamps were taken.

Since the county judge has made it a practice to appoint complainants as road overseers in Johnson county, the roads have been improved considerably.

Charles Tibbs was last week given a life sentence in the penitentiary by the Bell Circuit court, for the murder of Charles Haynes, at Middleboro, a few months ago.

Judge W. W. Powers, of Owingsville, raised a parsnip in his garden which would make a good mess for a fair sized family. It measured 16 1-4 inches in circumference.

Nick Muntz, who shot and killed Elva Coy about two months ago, believing him to be a night rider, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn near Sylvan Dell, in Harrison county, last week.

When a load of buckshot, which he had discharged into his left breast, failed to bring unconsciousness, Albert Gray, a Bath county farmer, raised the gun again and made sure of death by blowing out his brains.

At a public sale on the farm of Thos. Carr, in Scott county, last week, common barn yard chickens brought from 90 cents to $1.10 each, and turkeys sold at $4 apiece. Other live stock and produce brought proportionate prices.

Howard Little was electrocuted in the state prison, at Richmond, Va., last Friday, for the murder of a family of eight persons. He was born in Kentucky, and while acting as deputy marshal shot and killed a man in Pike county.

Three thoroughbred horses and much feed were consumed in a fire which destroyed a large stock barn belonging to Eugene Harmon, in Boyle county. It is thought the fire caught from the overturning of a lantern by a farm hand.

While descending a declivity in the road Henry Carpenter, who was riding along the Stonelick road, in Mason county, in a wagon with John Hefflin, was thrown from his seat, and falling over an embankment broke his neck, death resulting instantly.

Fifteen negroes confined in the jail at Pineville made an effort to gain liberty last week by setting fire to the building and it was only through the efforts of the jailer and his assistants that the building was saved and the desperate negroes rescued from being cremated.

Less than three weeks ago an explosion occurred in a mine near Drakesboro, in Muhlenburg county, in which more than fifty miners were killed and injured, and now come reports that a powder and dust explosion in a mine near Stearns, in Whitley county, snuffed out the lives of six miners last week.

While stooping over to wait on a customer at his grocery store, in Paris, Ernest Martin, a deputy sheriff of Bourbon county, had his revolver to drop from the holster and exploded when it struck the floor, the bullet entering Martin's left side just above the heart and lodging under the skin at the back. He is in a serious condition.

Jim Hardie, a negro living near Oak Grove, in Christian county, killed a vicious wolf a few nights ago with an ax, after the animal had attacked him. A number of sheep and dogs in that vicinity had been killed by some mysterious marauder, presumably the wolf. This is the second one killed in that county within a month, a big one having been killed by a party of hunters.

Becoming angered at E. T. Caffrey, of Somerset, while preparing to shoot an oil well in the Slickford field, in Wayne county, Earl Slobaum hurled a can of nitro-glycerine at him. It exploded near Slobaum, causing a wagon loaded with high explosives to blow up, tearing Slobaum into shreds. Caffrey escaped injury except a severe shock from the explosion. The jar was felt for ten miles around, and was almost like an earthquake.

KENTUCKY MOUNTAINEERS.

Complimentary Mention of a People Much Maligned.

(Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.)
Kentucky should justly feel proud of its great mountain section. Herein the Commonwealth has a splendid population of almost exclusively Anglo-Saxon origin, loyal to the last traditions of the race, faithful even unto death to the institutions of the republic. All history resounds with the unselfish devotion to freedom of Swiss and Scottish mountaineers. Their sufferings, as well as their successes, are the glory and inspiration of humanity. The mountaineers of Kentucky first invested homes from a physically, if not forbidding, section.

But these valiant and forceful pioneers looked beneath surface. The hills, forests, rivers, valleys, appealed to their souls here abide and build the best of American commonwealths. And they, like Samuel of old, heard the voice of the Lord speaking through woodland, waterway and hillside. No easy task theirs.

Establishing An Empire.
The man of '49, who underwent dread hardships and made such sacrifices to wax golden from California's soil, had incentives to effort denied the pioneers of Kentucky. The latter had no gold in sight. But more precious than gold or silver is a happy fireside. They built log cabins, which became the richest sanctuaries of contentment.

Their patriotism needed no artificial stimulus. Their country's first call to arms found them ready. The mountaineers of North Carolina from whom thousands of Kentuckians are descended, tendered, in the revolutionary war, services to freedom that illustrate and emphasize the legend on West Virginia's shield, "Mountaineers, Always Freemen."

What the Public Never Heard.

The mountaineer is devoted to kinfolk. For this noble trait he receives little credit, the world's attention being too often called to the brawls and the blood-letting resulting from attachment of mountain kinsmen. For one deed of violence thus originating one hundred acts of beneficence might be related. What sacrifices parents make for erring children, brother for brother, sister for all of her kin, history tells every day in the mountains. Generous, whole hearted, self-denying, the mountaineers are, insofar as Kentucky is concerned, the salt of the earth. True to the living, they forget not the dead. The mountaineers literally love knowledge. No people make greater sacrifice to obtain some form of educational training.

ing. They respect and revere books—especially the Book of Books—and when duly convinced of religious truths they are most zealous and consistent adherents of the faith.

Faults, in truth, they have. Human it is to err, but their faults are too often exaggerated. These faults are the expression, in every case, of mistaken loyalty to home and kindred. Where one such misapprehension of duty can be pointed to ten instances are at hand of faultless living and fearless self-sacrifice.

With the application of church and school agencies, the development of industries, the enlargement of traveling facilities and the influx of population, the mountains have in reach a future of unexcelled contentment and usefulness. In this age of iconoclasm it is the custom to denounce railway corporations unsparringly.

But history will impartially and unequivocally bear witness to the services rendered to country and humanity by the railroads of this vast region. They have opened a rich and resourceful country to the activities of capital. They have brought regions almost inaccessible to the very doors of enterprise and enlightenment. They have brought into the mountains the teacher and the books, the missionary and his evangel, the skilled laborer and his industry, the engineer and his craft, the banker and his thrift.

The mountains are the hope of Kentucky.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the president of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetites. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or run-down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at all dealers.

Take, for instance, a boy that is crafty in his small dealing with his companions, hates work, is unkind to those weaker or younger than himself, delights to torture animals, is lazy and shiftless. No prophet is necessary to foretell that unless a radical change takes place in this boy's experience before he reaches manhood, he will become a lazy, shiftless, brutal, cruel, dishonest, probably criminal man.—Selected.
